

About

Welcome to my professional liability website. I'm Chris Christian, CIC, RPLU, licensed agent since 1985 and former Marine.

I Love Insurance!

Insurance is my life, my career, my profession. I joined US Risk in November, 2005 and am based in the Nashville, TN branch office. I'm a wholesale broker, working primarily on professional liability and environmental lines. I work primarily in a virtual world, so geographical location is never an obstacle.

The majority of my clients are main street agents who rely upon me to provide the technical expertise and market knowledge to allow them to easily and efficiently write professional liability accounts of all shapes and sizes. I teach Ruble Seminars for the Society of Certified Insurance Counselors, CE for various industry associations and directly for select agencies, and am very active in the Professional Liability Underwriting Society, having just completed six years on the Board of Trustees, and remaining involved with the SouthEast Chapter and various activities of the organization.

In my spare time

When I'm not engaged in insurance business (which is rare right now), I'm running, working out, playing with my horses, golfing, reading, writing, or doing homely things. When I have time, I like to shoot pool. I have not yet had the opportunity to explore much of the beautiful outdoors here in Tennessee, but I hope to remedy that in the coming months.

Once a Marine, Always a Marine

And to all of you Marines out there -- Semper Fi! Check out the Marines in Insurance Group on LinkedIn here. I've just set that group up and am hopeful we can help each other to succeed through the power of networking.

Talk to me

I welcome communications about the content of this website and blog. Please comment on posts if you'd like, or you can email me directly at chrisc at usrisk dot com.

Disclaimer

Please note -- this website is not sponsored by, paid for, operated with or in any way connected to US Risk. The opinions here are my own, and do not represent US Risk's positions in any way. Nothing on this website or the blogs is intended as legal advice. Posts are for informational and entertainment purposes only. Please seek qualified legal counsel for a thorough understanding of any coverage matters.